Index

Viewpoints in Teaching and Learning

Volume 56—1980

No. 1 Multiculturalism in Contemporary Education. 104pp., $3.95

Multicultural Education

The Multicultural Teacher Education Standard—A Challenge and an Opportunity

Conceptual Changes in Ethnic Studies

The Role of Media in Multicultural Education

Assessment of Culturally Diverse Children

Multicultural Education and Intercultural Communication: A Family Affair

The Integration of Multicultural Education into the General Preparation of Teachers

No. 2 New Concerns in Educational Administration. 117pp., $4.95

Federal Awards and Appeals: The Present System is Not the Solution

Administration: The Process of Reconciling Internal Purposes and External Demands

In Higher Education: Cooperation, not Competition, Best Protects Students, Programs, and Resources

Student Affairs Administration in the Enigmatic Eighties

Developing Organizational Support for Quality Inservice Education in Schools

Selecting School Personnel: Some Basic Considerations

Disproportionate Suspension and the Teacher Referral Process

An Effective Screening Profile in Reading for High Risk Students: A Matter of Convenience or Service?

Cybernetic Modeling: A Proposal for Policy Design

Administrative Decentralization and Community Involvement: Research with Policy Implications

No. 3 Minimum Competency Testing: Is the Idea Tenable? Is it Helpful? 124pp., $4.95

Implementation of Minimum Competency Testing Programs

The Minimum Competencies of Minimum Competency Testing

Index

Viewpoints in Teaching and Learning

Volume 56—1980

No. 1 Multiculturalism in Contemporary Education. 104pp., $3.95

Multicultural Education

The Multicultural Teacher Education Standard—A Challenge and an Opportunity

Conceptual Changes in Ethnic Studies

The Role of Media in Multicultural Education

Assessment of Culturally Diverse Children

Multicultural Education and Intercultural Communication: A Family Affair

The Integration of Multicultural Education into the General Preparation of Teachers

No. 2 New Concerns in Educational Administration. 117pp., $4.95

Federal Awards and Appeals: The Present System is Not the Solution

Administration: The Process of Reconciling Internal Purposes and External Demands

In Higher Education: Cooperation, not Competition, Best Protects Students, Programs, and Resources

Student Affairs Administration in the Enigmatic Eighties

Developing Organizational Support for Quality Inservice Education in Schools

Selecting School Personnel: Some Basic Considerations

Disproportionate Suspension and the Teacher Referral Process

An Effective Screening Profile in Reading for High Risk Students: A Matter of Convenience or Service?

Cybernetic Modeling: A Proposal for Policy Design

Administrative Decentralization and Community Involvement: Research with Policy Implications

No. 3 Minimum Competency Testing: Is the Idea Tenable? Is it Helpful? 124pp., $4.95

Implementation of Minimum Competency Testing Programs

The Minimum Competencies of Minimum Competency Testing

Minimal Competency Testing: Are the Instruments Adequate?

Are There Standards for Competency Testing? Is that the Question?

The Functional Literacy Test: Florida's Approach to Competency Testing

Indiana's CAPPS Program: An Alternative to "Testing-Only" Minimum Competency Programs

No. 4 On Teaching Philosophy. 93 pp., $4.95

Can Moral Education Be Divorced from Philosophical Inquiry?

The Teaching of Philosophy in Social Studies

Philosophy and the High School Curriculum

Teaching Philosophy in a Two-Year College

Teaching Moral Criticism in the Sciences

Available from the Publications Office, Room 109
School of Education, Indiana University
Bloomington, Indiana 47405